

SPY PROPERGANDA POSTERS

During the War Britain was gripped with the fear that there was a German SPY around every corner

This was mainly due to the wide variety of propaganda posters posted in most towns and villages

In hindsight we now know that Germany had few Spy's or sympathisers in Britain.

Over the course of the war, we managed to turn many of the operational Spy's into double agents, feeding false information to Hitler. These played a vital role in victory
