

138 Squadron RAF Tempsford

One of WW2 most secret Airfields

138 Squadron dropped secrete agents and supplies to SOE These artefacts stand as to a reminder to the heavy loss of life that was suffered in support of clandestine activities.

Halifax NF-B crashed near Lormes France in 1944

Piloted by Lt John Kidd all the crew died over the drop zone
Due to the secrecy of 138 Squadron's missions, relatives rarely knew the fait of these loved ones until the end of the war.
