

The Aerial J Switch and Trailing Aerial

This was used with the T1154 and R1155 fitted to heavy Bombers

It selected various aerial on the plane

One of the aerials was run out behind the plane in flight on LW

Very High voltages can be present on the transmitter aerial

The Switch was made of Bakelite to reduce the chance of sparks

The big handle was for insulation and operation with gloves on